

Inside a University Hospital

Stefan Vlachos, Head of the Center for Innovation, Karolinska

The three legs of the center for innovation

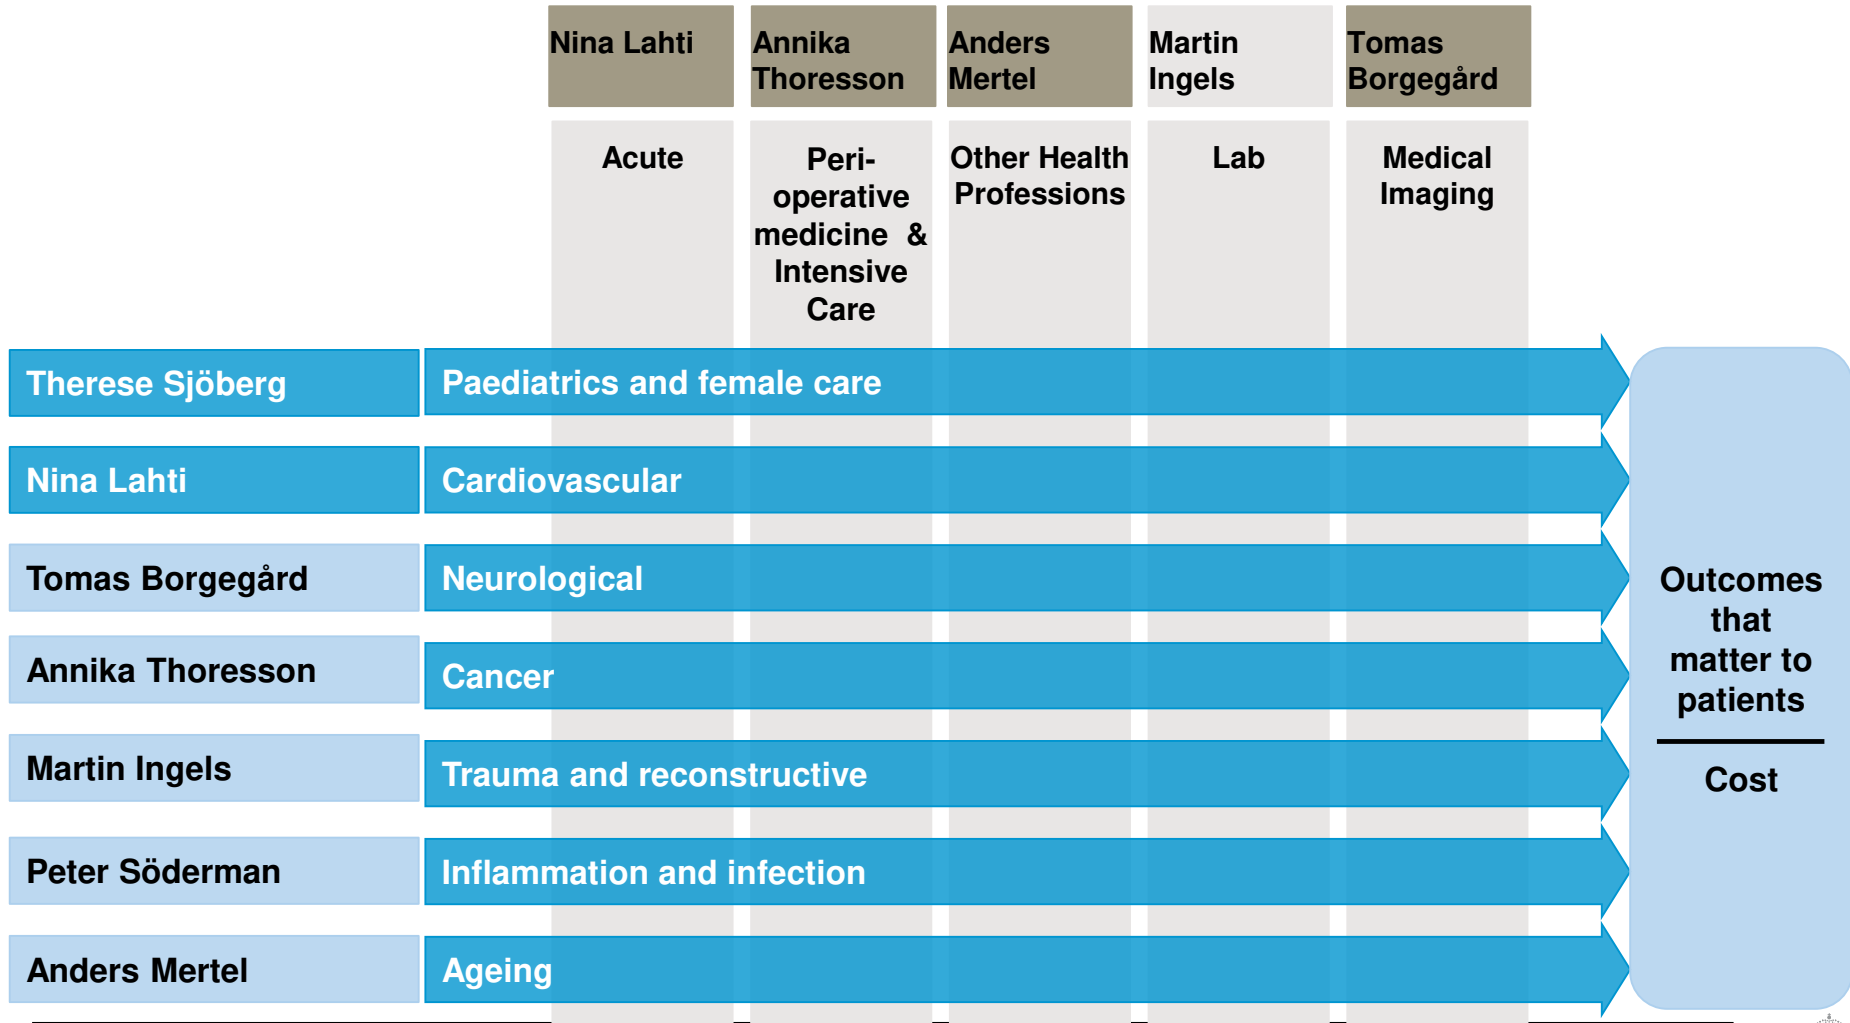

Overall aspiration

Significant impact on
value of care

Being a public entity

Law of Public Procurement

Building innovation capabilities in a university hospital

Many people have heart failure and the number is increasing.

But we won't get more resources. And survival has not increased despite new treatments.

What to do?

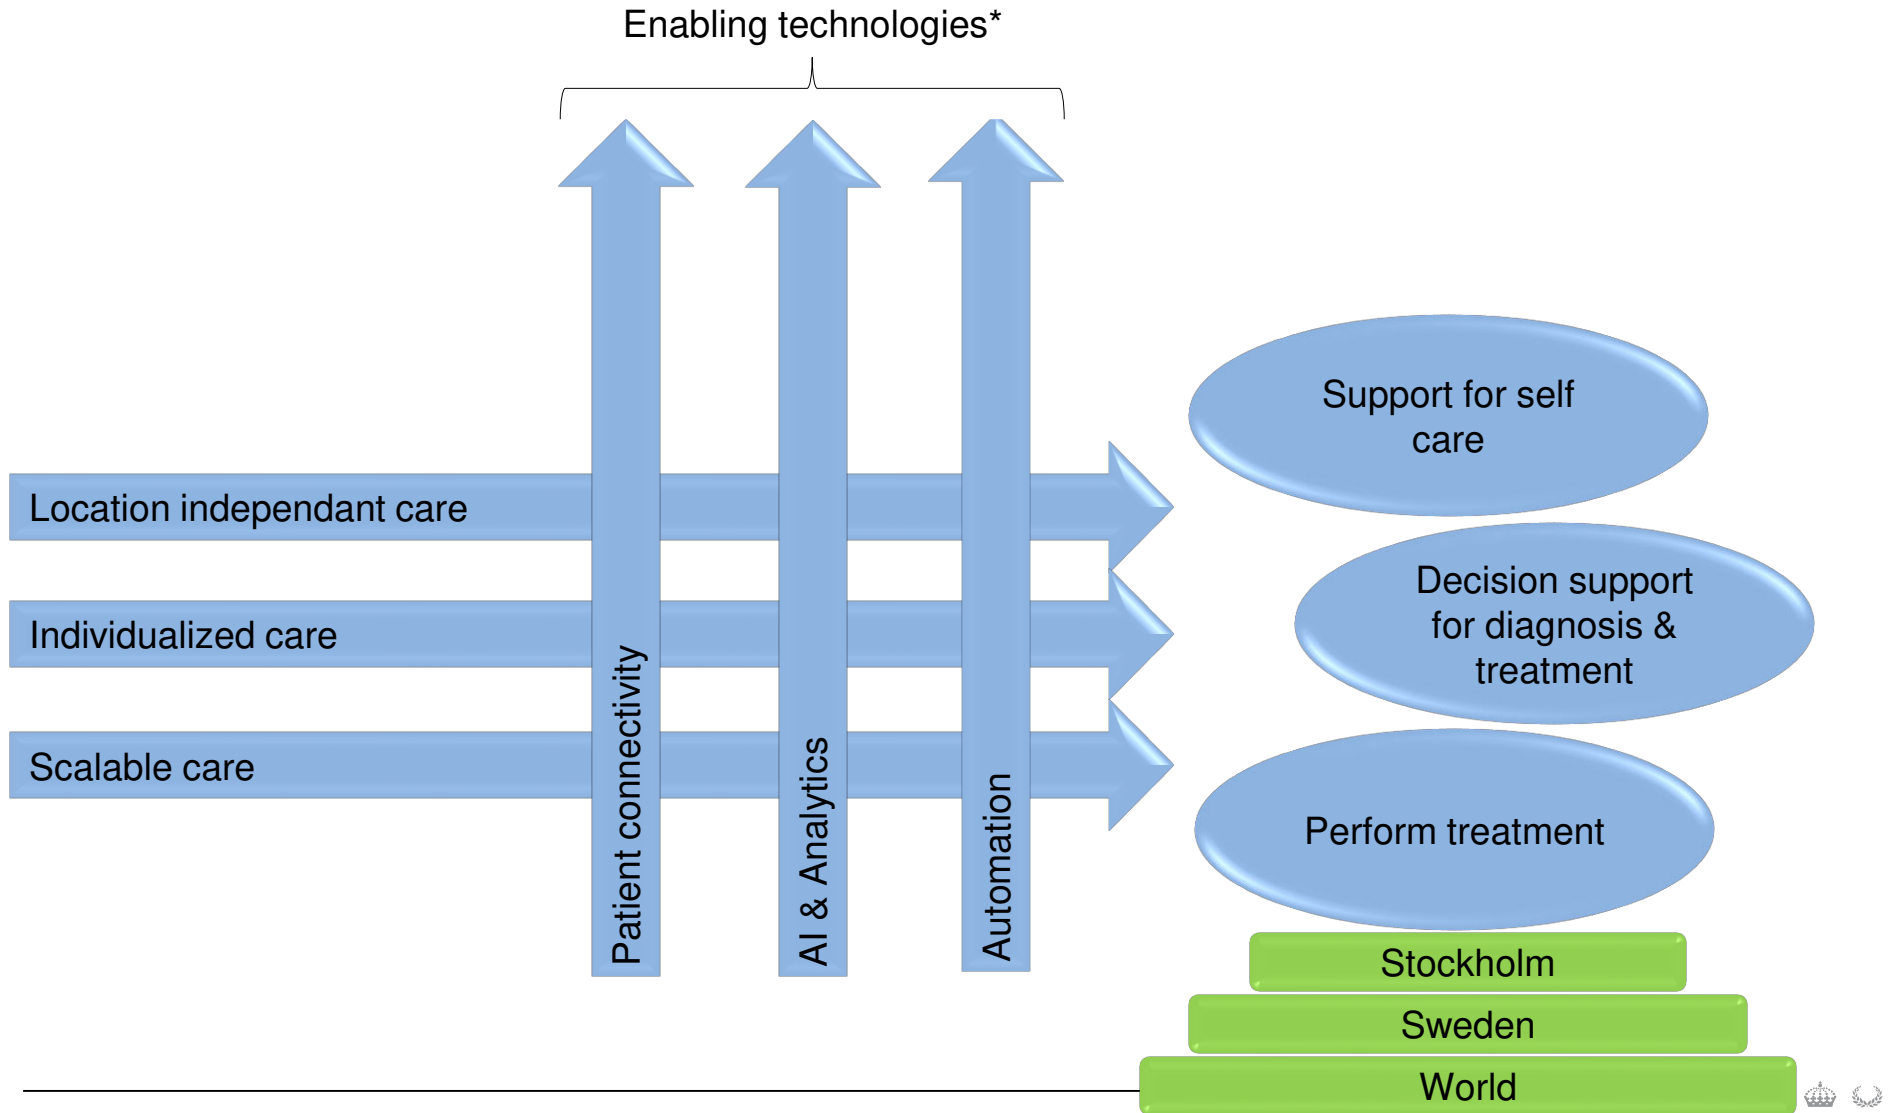

Inger Hagerman
överläkare, Hjärtkliniken

A young boy with short brown hair, wearing a blue t-shirt with the word 'FITCH' in orange letters and a circular logo, and dark pants with white stripes on the side, is sitting on a white surface. He is looking towards a woman on the right. The woman is wearing blue scrubs, glasses, and has her hair in a ponytail. She is looking back at the boy. The background is a bright, circular opening, likely the entrance to an MRI scanner. The lighting is soft and blue-toned.

Maria Sandell
sjuksköterska
Neuroradiologen

No need for anaesthesia with new
MR technology

Is healthcare the next large service export?

*) Kännetecknas av låg mognadsgrad och snabba förändringar