A different kind of event

Loved by participants, trusted by brands. Beyond the high-quality content, it's the curated group of innovation leaders attending that makes our events more impactful than all the others.

Since 2011, we've hosted intimate, immersive, and impactful gatherings to help corporate innovators understand how their peers operate, to experiment with new methods and tools, and to learn essential skills.

We've already visited innovation hotspots like London, Munich, Singapore, Stockholm, San Francisco, Toronto, Tel Aviv, Sydney, Paris and Los Angeles — our next stop will be New York (August 1).

No long keynotes nor talking-heads on boring panels with talking heads that are just interested in hearing themselves, but tens of hands-in, practical sessions where you actually do stuff.

Innov8rs events are carefully designed learning experiences, supporting participants to learn, work on their challenges and connect and collaborate with peers.

"The most varied and beneficial conference I've attended over the past 15 years."

It's the people.

Beyond the high quality content, it's the people you'll meet and the conversations you'll have with them that make you go back home excited and re-energized.

But don't take our word for it.

Here's a recap of one of our recent conferences, in Los Angeles:

This is what they say:

"Unlike other conferences, mixing with like-minded people made it feel like you were really learning something, rather than watching an endless stream of startup pitches and panel discussions that aren't really saying anything original at all."

"The presentations are great, don't get me wrong, they are amazing – but it is about the people."

"There's a diversity of people here. There's C-suite, there's new to the innovation space doers. And because of that diversity you see different perspectives and approaches to bring innovation within an organization."

"This is a fantastic conference. Everything has been top notch. I love the tagline that it is a tribe, because it is a group of people that shares amazing ideas."

"It's very rare to attend a conference that's truly peer to peer."

"There is not another conference that has this level and quality of people who are really driving change around the world."
